

Visitors to Champoeg State Heritage Area have been enjoying new, state-of-the-art historical exhibits installed in fall of 2008. These exhibits offer visitors an interactive experience to help them understand some of the people that have lived on French Prairie throughout time, their impact on the landscape, and the legacy they have left behind.

Adult volunteers are needed to be additional costumed interpreter to accompany these new exhibits.

Interested participants are invited to a meeting to introduce the program, on Saturday, February 13, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Visitor Center at Champoeg State Heritage Area. Time commitment, specific exhibit interest areas, training plans, and costuming information will be discussed.

Candidates should have an interest in local history, especially history surrounding the French Prairie area, enjoy sharing stories, and desire to be part of a group of enthusiastic and colorful costumed interpreters with similar interests.
